CALLED TO TURKEY THE NEW GAME LAW

Assayer of the Mint.

the Ottoman Empire.

United States mint, has been tendered and has accepted a most important position in the service of the Turkish government. He will shortly depart for Constantinople to enter upon the duties of the office, which will be virtually that of director general of industries. The appointment will be regarded as one of international importance, as it is a direct result of the observations in America of the present Turkish minister, All Ferrouh Pey. In the brief period of one year the young and vigorous diplomat, who possesses modern ideas and combines the best oriental culture with all the elements of western civilization, has succeeded in stimulating the commercial relations between his country and the United States to a very great degree.

American Superiority.

The trade enjoyed with Turkey by this country has been hitherto inconsiderable, but All Ferrouh Bey realized from the moment of his arrival the immense technical, commercial and scientific superiority in the American nation. Since then he has labored to introduce into Turkey American methods, American products and machines, ogists. Just now several new manufacturing establishments of great proportions are being built in Constantinople, and the general management of the first of these would thus seem that by the special ef-forts of an enlightened diplomat, who has come to appreciate America and her people, the ties of commercial relations are being bound closer and closer between the two countries and a better appreciation for the many good qualities of the Turkish people will probably follow in the wake of the knowledge of Turkish character. In Turkey at present there is a movement in progress toward a reorganization of the partly anti-quated, partly primitive, methods of agri-

Resources Being Developed.

The potentially unlimited resources of the soil of the country are being developed with American products and labor. The worldfamed American cotton is being introduced, and large quantities of the best American species of cotton seed have just been purchased by the Turkish minister of agriculture from some of the foremost firms in the southern states, the negotiations having been brought to a successful issue by the present minister in Washington.

Dr. Whitehead's Career.

Dr. Whitehead, who will undoubtedly prove to be a great factor in the regenerative work described, is well and favorably known in Washington, where he holds high place in scientific and social circles. He is a young man, having been born in October, 1863, in Lynchburg, Va. In preparing himself for college he taught school in summer in order to he'p meet his expenses for tuition in winter, because his family, though distinguished, was placed in strait-ened circumstances by the war. In 1881 he entered Lehigh University, taking the degree of bachelor of arts four years later. In the fall of 1885 he was appointed an assistant in the Philadelphia mint by Dr. James P. Kimball, then director of the mint. Shortly thereafter he was transfer-red to the assay office at Boise City, Idaho, whence he was called by Secretary Windom in 1889 to become assayer of the bureau of the mint. After taking up his residence in this city he entered upon a course of study in Columbian University, and after three years took the degree of doctor of philosophy. Previously he married Miss Bena Ayres, the only daughter of Col. E. W.

For several years Dr. Whitehead has had charge of the assay department of Columbian University, and has also been a lecturer on metallurgy there. A couple of years ago, when the bill for the erection of a new mint at Philadelphia became a law. Dr. Whitehead was sent abroad to examine the mints of England, France and Germany, and to report upon the state of the art of coinage in those countries. His con-clusions were incorporated in a report to the director of the mint, which contained many recommendations for the improve-ment of our service. During his incumbency of the office of assayer he has conducted metallurgical and chemical investi-gations upon analytical methods. He is also the inventor of a number of practical processes for extracting and refining the

A Thorough American.

Dr. Whitehead is a man of most attractive personality, and a thorough American in every fiber. He will have broad powers in his new career, and it is felt by those who have followed his past that he will prove a potent factor in advancing both American commerce and American ideas in the Ottoman empire.

It is understood that a part of Dr. Whitehead's agreement with the Turkish govern-ment requires an annual visit of three months to the United States, which will prove gratifying to his many friends in

Admiral Dewey has been instructed to prescribe his own uniform, and although it is not believed he has given much attention to the matter of uniform of late, it is possible that he will desire to wear the full dress and insignia of his rank. His flag is blue, with four stars in the shape of a diamond. Under former regulations, when the navy had an admiral his rank will be distinguished by four stars en his shoulder straps, the end stars being upon foul anchors. Upon his sleeves he will wear two

HIS SUCCESSFUL CAREER PROVISIONS OF THE ACT

Congress during its fina! sessions and approved by President McKinley will prove to be, it is believed, a thorough preventive of unsportsmanly killing of game birds or animals if its provisions are vigorously carried out. It makes many important changes in past customs and is especially valuable in permitting the search of cold storage and similar depositories by authorized persons. Under the new law the marsh shooting will be permitted to begin August 20 and shooting will be confined to Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays of each week. The law in full is as follows: Quail, Pheasants and Grouse.

"An act for the protection of birds, preservation of game and for the prevention of its sale during certain closed seasons in the District of Columbia. "Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That no person shall kill, expose for sale, or have in his or her possession, either dead or alive, any partridge, otherwise quail, between the 1st day of February and the 1st day of November; nor kill, expose for sale, or have in his or her possession, either dead or alive, any woodcock, between the 15th day of January and the 15th day of July; nor kill, nor expose for sale, or have July: nor kill, nor expose for sale, or have in his or her possession, either dead or alive, any prairie chicken, otherwise pinnated grouse, between the 1st day of February and the 1st day of September; nor kill, expose for sale, or have in his or her possession, either dead or alive, any ruffed grouse, otherwise known as piecewise linear dead. grouse, otherwise known as pheasant, be-tween the 25th day of December and the 1st day of November, except the English ring-neck pheasant, or other pheasants of foreign origin, hatched and raised in farm poultry inclosures; nor kill, expose for sale, nor have in his or her possession, either dead or allye any will unless his way to dead or alive, any wild turkey, between the 26th day of December and the 1st day of November; nor kill, expose for sale, nor have in his or her possession, either dead or alive, any rabbit, except the species known as the English rabbit, or squirrel, between the lat day of Schwarz and his known as the English rabbit, or squirrel, between the 1st day of February and the 1st day of November; nor kill, expose for sale, nor have in his or her possession, either dead or alive, any snipe or plover, between the 1st day of May and the 1st day of September; nor kill, expose for sale, nor have in his or her possession, either dead or alive, any wiid duck, wiid goose or brant, between the 1st day of May and the 1st day of September; nor kill, expose for sale, or have in his or her possession, either dead or alive, any water rail, or ortolan, reed bird, or rice bird or marsh blackbird, between the 1st day of February and the 20th day of August; nor shoot at nor kill the same except on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays between the 21st day of and Saturdays between the 21st day of August and the 1st day of February, under a penalty of $5 for a violation of any of the provisions of this section, and, in de-

Copper-Plating Ships' Bottoms. The construction board of the Navy Department is considering the subject of copper plating the bottom of warships. The board has the facts which had been obtained from a trial of the private steamer Alliance, which has copper plate over the steel bottom. The copper plate has worked very well with the Alliance, but the board is not sure that the result would be the same with warships. The matter will receive full consideration from the board believe a definite conclusion is reached.
